A. ECONOMIC OVERVIEW

1. Global Economy

Global growth remained broadly on track at about 2.8% in Real GDP in FY 2015 after hitting a somewhat soft patch at the start of the year. It is largely expected to pick up to 3.2% in 2016-17, in line with previous forecasts. Divergence across major economies will narrow in 2015-16 as growth plateaus in the United States and strengthens in the Euro Area and Japan. Several major forces such as soft commodity prices, persistently low interest rates, increasingly divergent monetary policies across major economies, and weak world trade have been driving the global economic outlook. Lower oil prices will support consumer spending and hold inflation at record lows in the short term, but these effects will wane by 2016. Activity in China will continue to decelerate modestly in line with expectations, with the slowdown buffered by scaled-up monetary and fiscal accommodation. (Source: worldbank.org)

A strong U.S. dollar is expected continue to weigh on exports, driven predominantly by private consumption. Growth in United States is expected to strengthen modestly to 2.7% in 2015 and further to 2.8% in 2016. Overall, policy in the United States is expected to remain accommodative and the fiscal stance will be broadly neutral. As a result of sustained job creation, the unemployment rate is approaching structural levels and inflation is expected to move closer to the U.S. Federal Reserve's target in 2016. This, together with neutral fiscal policy and healing household balance sheets, should support a steady growth trend in U.S. in 2015-16.

However, the European economy continues to be in choppy waters. Greece is facing a severe crisis in its loan repayments to the International Monetary Fund (IMF), and the trajectory shows a strong probability that any further delay or default can threaten its association with the European Union. The European economy is more stable to handle the immediate fallout from a Greek exit compared to 2012. However, a number of countries in the European economic periphery still continue to experience weak economic growth and continue to have very high public and private sector debt levels. This makes them especially vulnerable to swings in investor sentiment once global liquidity conditions are normalised and the perception becomes widespread that Euro membership is no longer irrevocable. Even though the Greek economy is relatively smaller to have big global impact, a sense of nervousness exists among other EU countries with high debts and repayment difficulties, dampening overall business and consumer sentiments.

2. Indian Economy

With strong global ties and a dynamic investment atmosphere, India will outgrow China and its BRIC peers with a GDP growth of 7.5% in 2016, from 7.2% in FY2015. India, a major oil importer, will be a big beneficiary of the decrease in energy prices as it is consequently increasing real income and spending. This includes removing infrastructural bottlenecks as well as implementing reforms to education, labour, and product markets for raising labour force participation and productivity. As the Government is pushing forward with subsidy reforms, lower oil prices offer an opportunity to decrease energy subsidies and replace them with better-targeted programmes.

a. Outlook of Global Economic Growth in Real GDP

Growth is expected to be strong in the coming years on the back of reforms, pick-up in investments, rebounding consumer demand and lower prices. A ranking of investment destinations for attractiveness to foreign investors has placed India at the top among 110 countries. Based on the Baseline profitability Index (BPI), India tops the list as the most viable option for attracting investors around the world. This can be primarily attributed to drivers such as Government stability, high growth forecast and an overall sense of investment protection. (Source: Global Survey Report - Ernst & Young)

With strong global ties and a dynamic investment atmosphere, India will outgrow China and its BRIC peers with a GDP growth of 7.5% in 2016, compared to 7.2% in 2015.

B. INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

1. Global Textile and Apparel Market

The global Textile and Apparel market is expected to touch $805 billion in 2015, compared to $650 billion in 2010, according to the Global Textile and Apparel Industry: Vision 2015. This is projected to touch $1,060 billion by 2021. The global textile industry has evolved through distinct consumption and production hubs. Production was earlier located in developed economies such as the U.S. and UK, but over the years manufacturing has shifted to developing economies such as India, China, and Bangladesh, due to a specific cost advantage offered by these countries. Although textile production in developed economies is slowing down, the developing economies continue to witness robust production as they contribute over 60% of the world textile production.

The global textile and apparel industry is undergoing structural changes to sustain itself in a dynamic environment. Till a few years back, market players were focused on organic growth to increase sales. However, in the face of increased competition, companies have now started to focus on growth through mergers and acquisitions. Inorganic growth enables companies to access new markets, enhance their product portfolio and achieve value chain integration in a shorter span of time. In developed economies, value retailers (providing products that represent value for money proposition) grew by an average CAGR of 17% between 2005-2010, in comparison with average CAGR of 2% registered by brands. Going forward, the trend is expected to grow stronger as consumers will rationalize their spending, aiding the growth of value retailers at the expense of brand. (Source: Technopak)

2. India's Textile Market

India's total textile and apparel industry (domestic plus exports) is a $108 billion market, of which roughly $40 billion is export oriented. This is projected to grow at a CAGR of 9.5% and almost double at $221 billion by 2021. India is one of the largest producers of textiles and apparels in the world, second only to China. Textile industry plays a significant role in India's economy, which is largely dependent on textile manufacturing and exports. The industry is the second largest employer after agriculture, providing direct employment to over 45 million people. The Indian Textile Industry contributes approximately 5% to India's GDP and 14% to overall Index of Industrial Production (IIP). Furthermore, the textile and apparel exports it contribute roughly 11% to India's export earnings. Textile exports have grown by roughly 11% over the last decade and accounts for 5% of India's total global trade. With rising GDP growth in India and a subsequent growth in consumer spending, India's textile and apparel sector witnesses a plethora of opportunities to flourish, irrespective of the global market conditions.(Source: www.cii.in, Technopak)

a. Growth Triggers

- Political and economic stability
- Flexibility in production quantity
- Skilled and cost-efficient talent pool

b. Government Initiatives

The Indian government has come up with a number of export promotion policies for the textiles sector. It has also allowed 100% Foreign Direct Investment (FDI) in the Indian textiles sector under the automatic route.

c. India's Trade Scenario

As per latest available statistics, exports of RMGs account for 47% of India's total textiles export. India's textiles products, including handlooms and handicrafts, are exported to more than 100 countries. However, the USA and the EU account for about two-thirds of the total textiles exports. The other major export destinations are China, U.A.E., Sri Lanka, Saudi Arabia, Republic of Korea, Bangladesh, Turkey, Pakistan, Brazil, Hong-Kong, Canada, Egypt, among other nations. (Source: Outcome budget, Textile industry)

India's overall textile exports grew by 9% CAGR since 2000, with fibre exports registering the highest CAGR in recent years. India' share of worldwide textile and apparel exports currently stands at 4%. This figure is estimated to grow to 8% by 2020 and will open up huge potential for Indian players. U.S. is the biggest export destination for Indian textiles and apparel. The US Department of Commerce, places India as the second-highest exporter of textile and garments, surpassing China. D. OPERATIONAL HIGHLIGHTS:

With additional capacities and promising growth in new markets and geographies, we bettered our operational performance during the year. We continued to amplify our strengths, while diversifying our footprint in the global market. Some of the key operational highlights during the year are as below:

Market Diversification

Currently, ~90% of our sales are accounted by United States. However, the seasonal decline in sales of wovens during the fall season (August-November) results in lower capacity utilization at our Indian facilities. Hence, we are continuously endeavouring to diversify our sales to newer geographies in Australia, UK, Germany, Canada, Mexico, Chile and South Africa.

Capacity Growth

We made a capex of Rs. 53.45 Crores during FY2015, which was mainly applied towards (modernization of existing plant as well as capacity expansion at Bangalore and Chennai). As a result, our aggregate production capacity is expected to increase by 8.8%, from 5 million units FY2014 to 5.44 million in FY2016.

E. OUR PILLARS OF STRENGTHS

1. A Multi Location Manufacturing Capability

Global apparel sourcing market is witnessing a shift from China to other low-cost Asian countries, primarily Bangladesh, India and Indonesia. Our Company already has a strong manufacturing presence in leading sourcing nations such as India, Bangladesh and Indonesia. Each of these countries exhibits certain core advantages.

2. Design Cell

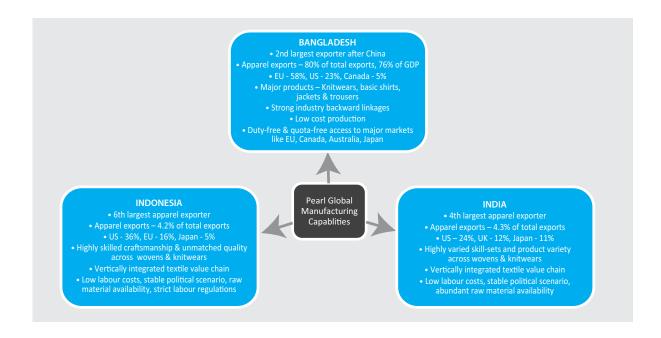

Our Company has a dedicated in-house design team of ~75+ designers in Hong Kong, India and Indonesia. The design teams continuously observe the trends in all markets across the world and visit almost all the globally renowned fashion and textile fairs to refresh their inspiration for new design ideas. As a result, they are well-equipped to serve the global brands from concept boards to ready new samples. There is an increased focus being placed on creating brand-specific product designs to generate and accelerate business opportunities for global brands and retailers.

3. E-Commerce – a B2C Endeavour via E-Commerce Channels

In view of the phenomenal rise witnessed in the consumption of products through online retailing within India, especially in textiles, we have recently ventured into e-retail through our own retail platform "www.SBUYS.com". Our vision behind this is to provide internationally trending and fashionable garments to the Indian consumer at an attractive value. In addition to our own retail platform, we have established tie-ups with leading online retail platforms such as Flipkart, Snapdeal, Jabong, Myntra, Fashion and You, Hopscotch and Amazon. We are confident of capitalising on this growing opportunity. We expect tis channel to evolve gradually and become more significant in the coming years. Since our margin contribution through this channel is substantially more than our B2B business, our topline growth in our B2C business will have a positive effect on our bottom lines.

F. MANAGEMENT OUTLOOK

The future of India's textile industry looks promising. This positive outlook is driven by improving revenue prospects from rebounding economic growth in key export destinations; and by stabilising input costs and continuing favourable policies supporting our industry. The future for the domestic textile industry is also buoyant due to strong domestic consumption. With consumerism and disposable incomes on the rise, the textile sector is experiencing a rapid growth and we hope to surf forward on this positive wave.

Our main market in the USA looks relative healthy with both employment and consumption on a steady rise. We expect our business into the USA to grow consistently over the near term. Simultaneously, we expect to continue our steady penetration into other markets, allowing us to use our capacity in lean seasons and so gradually improve our ROIs. We also intend to strengthen our existing association with various apparel brands by becoming a larger, more service orientated vendor-partner to them. We are geographically well positioned to produce from the most cost-effective supply bases in Asia, keeping us highly competitive and relevant to our customers. Above all, we expect to maintain and step up our profitability from superior value-added products and meticulous management of our costs and processes.

Held to Maturity: Investment in debt & capital guard products are classified as held to maturity only if the company has the positive intent and ability to hold these securities to maturity. Such securities are held at historical cost.

Available-for-sale financial assets: Available-for-sale financial assets are non-derivative financial assets in listed and unlisted equity & debt instruments that are designated as available for sale or are not classified in any of the other investment categories. Subsequent to initial recognition, available-for-sale financial assets are measured at fair value, with gains or loss recognized as a separate component of equity as "Investment Revaluation Reserve" until the investment is derecognized or until the investment is determined to be impaired, at which time the cumulative gain or loss previously reported in equity is included in the Statement of Profit & Loss. 'When the fair value of unlisted equity securities cannot be reliably measured because of significant variability in the range of fair value estimates or where the probabilities of the various estimates within the range cannot be reasonably assessed, such securities are stated at cost less impairment, if any.

Fair value

The fair value of investments that are actively traded in organized financial markets is determined by reference to quoted market bid prices at the close of business at the balance sheet date.

i. Derivative financial instruments and hedging

The Company uses derivative financial instruments such as forward currency contracts to hedge its risks associated with foreign currency fluctuations. Such derivative financial instruments are initially recognized at cost on the date on which a derivative contract is entered into and are subsequently re-measured at fair value. Derivatives are carried as assets when the fair value is positive and as liabilities when the fair value is negative. Any gains or losses arising from changes in fair value on derivatives that do not qualify for hedge accounting are taken directly to the Statement of Profit & Loss.

The fair value of forward currency contracts is calculated by reference to current forward exchange rates for contracts with similar maturity profiles.

For the purpose of hedge accounting, hedges are classified as:

Fair value hedges: A hedge of the exposure to changes in the fair value of recognized asset or liability or an unrecognized firm commitment (except for foreign risk); or identified portion of such asset, liability or firm commitment (except for foreign risk), or an identified portion of such asset, liability or firm commitment that is attributable to a particular risk and could affect profit or loss.

Cash flow hedges: A hedge of the exposure to variability in cash flows that is either attributable to a particular risk associated with a recognized asset or liability or a highly probable forecast transaction, and could affect profit or loss.

The effective portion of the gain or loss on the hedging instrument is recognized directly in the equity, while the ineffective portion is recognized in the Statement of Profit & Loss.

j. Employee Benefits

Expense and Liabilities in respect of employee benefits are recorded in accordance with Accounting Standard 15 – Employee Benefits (Revised 2005):

i) Short term Employee benefit

Short-term employee benefits including short term compansated absenses are recognized as an expense at the undiscounted amount in the Statement of Profit and Loss of the year in which related service is rendered. Terminal benefits are recognized as an expense immediately.

ii) Defined Contribution Plan

Contributions payable to recognised provident fund and employee state insurance scheme, which are substantially defined contribution plans, are recognised as expense in the Statement of Profit and Loss, as they incurred.

iii) Defined Benefit Plan

Actuarial gains/losses, if any, are recognised immediately in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

iv) Other Long Term Benefits

Long term compensated absences are provided for on the basis of actuarial valuation, using the projected unit credit method, at the end of each financial year. Actuarial gains/losses, if any, are recognised immediately in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

k. Borrowing Cost

Borrowing costs that are attributable to the acquisition or construction of qualifying assets are capitalized as part of the cost of assets. A qualifying asset is one that necessarily takes substantial period of time to get ready for intended use. All other borrowing costs are charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss.

I. Leases

- i) In respect of lease transactions entered into prior to April 1, 2001, lease rentals of assets acquired are charged to Statement of Profit & Loss.
- ii) Lease transactions entered into on or after April,1, 2001:

-Assets acquired under leases where the company has substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership are classified as finance leases. Such assets are capitalized at the inception of the lease at the lower of the fair value or the present value of minimum lease payments and a liability is created for an equivalent amount. Each lease rental paid is allocated between the liability and the interest cost, so as to obtain a constant periodic rate of interest on the outstanding liability for each period. -Assets acquired under leases where a significant portion of the risks and rewards of ownership are retained by the lessor are classified as operating leases. Lease rentals are charged to the Statement of Profit & Loss on accrual basis on straight line basis.

m. Taxes On Income

i) Domestic Companies

- -Income tax on the profit or loss for the year comprises provision for current tax. The current tax is the expected tax payable on the taxable income for the year, using tax rates enacted at the balance sheet date.
- -The Deferred tax is recognized on timing differences; being the differences between taxable income and accounting income that originate in one period and are capable of reversal in one or more subsequent periods.
- -The Deferred tax assets in respect of unabsorbed depreciation and carry forward of losses are recognized if there is a virtual certainty that there will be sufficient future taxable income available to reverse such losses.
- -Minimum Alternate Tax (MAT) paid in the year is charged to the statement of profit and loss as current tax. The company recognises MAT credit available as an asset only to the extent that there is convincing evidence that the company will pay normal income tax during the specified period, i.e., the period for which MAT credit is allowed to be carried forward. In the year in which company recognises MAT credit as an asset in accordance with the Guidance Note on Accounting for Credit Available in respect of Minimum Alternate Tax under the Income Tax Act, 1961, the said asset is created by way of credit to the statement of Profit and Loss and shown as "MAT Credit entitlement". The company reviews the "MAT credit entitlement" asset at each reporting date and writes down the asset to the extent the company does not have convincing evidence that it will pay normal tax during the specified period.

ii) Foreign Companies

Foreign companies recognize tax liabilities and assets in accordance with applicable local laws.

to the Consolidated Financial Statements for the year ended March 31, 2015

n. Impairment of Assets

An asset is treated as impaired when the carrying cost of assets exceeds its recoverable value. An impairment loss is charged to the Statement of Profit & Loss in the year in which an asset is identified as impaired. The impairment loss recognized in prior accounting period is reversed if there has been a change in the estimate of recoverable amount.

o. Provision, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets

Provisions involving substantial degree of estimation in measurement are recognized when there is a present obligation as a result of past events and it is probable that there will be an outflow of resources. Contingent liabilities are not recognized but are disclosed in the notes. Contingent assets are neither recognized nor disclosed in the financial statements.

p. Earning per Share (EPS)

In determining earnings per share, the company considers the net profit after tax and includes the post tax effect of any extra ordinary items.

- i) Basic earning per share is calculated by dividing the net profit or loss for the year attributable to equity shareholders by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year.
- ii) For the purpose of calculating Diluted Earning per share, the number of shares comprises of weighted average shares considered for deriving basic earning per share and also the weighted average number of equity share which could have been issued on the conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares. Dilutive potential equity shares are deemed converted as of the beginning of the period, unless they have been issued at a later date. A transaction is considered to be antidilutive if its effect is to increase the amount of EPS, either by lowering the share count or increasing the earnings.

q. Cash Flow Statement

Cash flows are reported using the indirect method, whereby profit before tax is adjusted for the effects of transactions of a non-cash nature, any deferrals or accruals of past or future operating cash receipts or payments and item of income or expenses associated with investing or financing cash flows. 2.2 Uses of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles requires the management to make judgement, estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of revenues, expenses, assets & liabilities and disclosure of contingent liabilities at the end of the reporting period. Although these estimates are based on the management's best knowledge of current events and actions, uncertainty about these assumptions and estimates could results in the outcomes requiring a material adjustment to the carrying amount(s) of assets or liabilities in future periods. Differences between the actual results and estimates are recognized in the year in which the results are known / materialized. Changes in estimates are reflected in the financial statements in the period in which changes are made and, if material, their effects are disclosed in the notes to the financial statements.

However, certain land and building are measured at revalued cost. Gain or loss arising on the sale of fixed assets are measured as the difference between the net proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and are recognised in the Statement of Profit & Loss in the year in which the asset is sold. Capital work-in-progress comprises the cost of fixed assets that are not yet ready for their intended use at the reporting date.

c) Intangible Assets

Intangible assets are recorded at the consideration paid for acquisition of such assets and are carried at cost less accumulated amortization and impairment. All expenditures, qualifying as Intangible Assets are amortized over estimated useful life.

d) Depreciation / Amortisation

i) Depreciation on tangible assets is provided on the straight-line method over the useful lives of assets estimated by the management. Depreciation for assets purchased / sold during a period is proportionately charged to Statement of Profit & Loss. Intangible assets are amortized over their respective individual estimated useful lives on a straight-line basis, commencing from the date the asset is available to the Company for its use. The management estimates the useful lives for the other fixed assets as follows:

to financial statements for the year ended on March 31,2015

Buildings	30-60 years
Plant and Machinery	15 years

Vehicles	8-10 years

- i) Export sale is recognized on transfer of risks and rewards to the customer and on the basis of date of Airway Bill/ Bill of lading.
- ii) Sales are shown as net of trade discount and include Freight & Insurance recovered from buyers as per the terms of sale.

- ix) Purchase are recognized upon receipt of such goods by the company. Purchases of imported goods are recognized after completion of custom clearance formalities and upon receipt of such goods by the company.

f) Foreign Currency Transactions

Initial Recognition: Transactions denominated in foreign currencies are recorded at an exchange rate prevailing at the time of the transaction. Sales made in foreign currency are translated on average exchange rate.

Conversion: Monetary items denominated in foreign currency are reported using the closing exchange rate on each Balance Sheet Date. Non – monetary items which are carried in terms of historical cost denominated in a foreign currency are reported using the exchange rate at the date of the transaction.

Exchange difference: The exchange difference arising on the settlement of monetary items or reporting these items at rates different from rates at which these were initially recorded / reported in previous financial statements are recognized as income/expense in the period in which they arise.

g) Investment and Financial Assets

The company has classified its investments as under:-

Held for trading: Trading securities are those (both debt & equity) that are bought and held principally for the purpose of selling them in near term. Such securities are valued at fair value and gain/loss is recognised in the Statement of Profit & Loss.

Held to Maturity : The investments are classified as held to maturity only if the company has the positive intent and ability to hold these securities to maturity. Such securities are held at historical cost.

Available-for-sale financial assets: Available-for-sale financial assets are non-derivative financial assets in listed and unlisted equity & debt instruments that are designated as available for sale and are initially recognized at their value. Subsequent to initial recognition, available-for-sale financial assets are measured at fair value, with gains or loss recognised as a separate component of equity as "Investment Revaluation Reserve" until the investment is de-recognised or until the investment is determined to be impaired, at which time the cumulative gain or loss previously reported in equity is included in the income statement. When the fair value of unlisted equity securities cannot be reliably measured because; firstly the variability in the range of reasonable fair value estimates is significant for that investment or, secondly the probabilities of the various estimates within the range cannot be reasonably assessed and used in estimating fair value. Such securities are stated at cost less any impairment.

Fair value: The fair value of investments that are actively traded in organised financial markets is determined by reference to quoted market bid prices at the close of business at the balance sheet date.

h) Derivative financial instruments and hedging

The Company uses derivative financial instruments such as forward currency contracts to hedge its risks associated with foreign currency fluctuations. Such derivative financial instruments are initially recognized at cost on the date on which a derivative contract is entered into and are subsequently re-measured at fair value. Derivatives are carried as assets when the fair value is positive and as liabilities when the fair value is negative. Any gains or losses arising from changes in fair value on derivatives that do not qualify for hedge accounting are taken directly to the Statement of Profit & Loss.

For the purpose of hedge accounting, hedges are classified as:

- i) Fair value hedges: A hedge of the exposure to changes in the fair value of recognized asset or liability or an unrecognized firm commitment (except for foreign risk); or identified portion of such asset, liability or firm commitment (except for foreign risk), or an identified portion of such asset, liability or firm commitment that is attributable to a particular risk and could affect profit or loss.
- ii) Cash flow hedges: A hedge of the exposure to variability in cash flows that is either attributable to a particular risk associated with a recognized asset or liability or a highly probable forecast transaction, and could affect profit or loss.

The effective portion of the gain or loss on the hedging instrument is recognized directly in the equity, while the ineffective portion is recognized in the Statement of Profit & Loss.

i) Employee Benefits

Expense and Liabilities in respect of employee benefits are recorded in accordance with Accounting Standard 15 – Employee Benefits (Revised 2005):

Short term Employee benefit

Short term employee benefits including short term compensated absences are recognised as an expense at an undiscounted amount in the Statement of Profit & Loss of the year in which the related service is rendered. Terminal Benefits are recognized as an expense immediately.

Defined Contribution Plan

Contributions payable to recognized Provident Fund and Employee State Insurance scheme, which are substantially defined contribution plans, are recognised as expense in the Statement of Profit & Loss, as they are incurred.

Defined Benefit Plan

The cost of providing defined benefits is determined using the Projected Unit Credit Method, with actuarial valuations being carried out at each balance sheet date. Actuarial gains and losses are recognized in full in the Statement of Profit and Loss for the period in which they occur. Past service cost is recognized immediately to the extent that the benefits are already vested, and otherwise is amortized on a straight line basis over the average period until the benefit become vested. The retirement benefit obligation recognised in the balance sheet represents the present value of the defined benefit obligation as adjusted for unrecognized past service cost and as reduced by the fair value of scheme assets. Any asset resulting from this calculation is limited to past service cost, plus the present value of available refunds and reductions in future contributions to the scheme.

Other Long term Benefits

Long term compensated absences are provided for on the basis of acturial valuation, using the projected unit credit method, at the end of each financial year. Acturial gains/ losses, if any, are recognised immediately in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

j) Borrowing Costs

Borrowing costs include interest, amortisation of ancilliary costs incurred in connection with the arrangement of borrowings and exchange differences arising from foreign currency borrowings to the extent they are regarded as an adjustment to the interest cost. Borrowing costs that are attributable to the acquisition or construction of qualifying fixed assets are capitalized as part of the cost of assets. All other borrowing costs are recognized as expense in the year in which they are incurred."

k) Leases

i) The Lease under which the company assumes substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership are classified as finance leases. Such assets are capitalized at the inception of the lease at the lower of the fair value or the present value of minimum lease payments and a liability is created for an equivalent amount. Each lease rental paid is allocated between the liability and the interest cost, so as to obtain a constant periodic rate of interest on the outstanding liability for each period. ii) Assets acquired under leases where a significant portion of the risks and rewards of ownership are retained by the lessor are classified as operating leases. Lease rentals are charged to the Statement of Profit & Loss on accrual basis on straight line basis. iii) Assets leased out under operating leases are capitalized. Rental income is recognized on accrual basis over the lease term.

to financial statements for the year ended on March 31,2015

I) Taxes On Income

Tax expense comprises current tax and deferred tax.

Current Tax

Current Tax is measured and expected to be paid to the tax authorities in accordance with the provisions of the Income Tax Act, 1961, and based on the expected outcome of assessment/appeals. The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the amount are those that are enacted or substantively enacted, at the reporting date. Current Income Tax relating to the items recognised directly in equity is recognised in equity and not in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Deferred Tax

Deferred tax reflect the impact of timing differences between taxable income and accounting income originating during the current year and reversal of timing differences for the earlier years. Deferred tax is measured using the tax rates and tax laws used to compute the amount are those that are enacted or substantively enacted, at the reporting date. Deferred tax assets subject to consideration of prudence, are recognized and carried forward only to the extent that there is reasonable certainty that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which such deferred tax assets can be realized. Such assets are reviewed as at each balance sheet date to re-assess realization.

Minimum Alternate Tax

Minimum Alternate Tax (MAT) paid in the year is charged to the statement of profit and loss as current tax. The company recognises MAT credit available as an asset only to the extent that there is convincing evidence that the company will pay normal income tax during the specified period, i.e., the period for which MAT credit is allowed to be carried forward. In the year in which company recognises MAT credit as an asset in accordance with the Guidance Note on Accounting for Credit Available in respect of Minimum Alternate Tax under the Income Tax Act, 1961, the said asset is created by way of credit to the statement of Profit and Loss and shown as "MAT Credit entitlement". The company reviews the "MAT credit entitlement" asset at each reporting date and writes down the asset to the extent the company does not have convincing evidence that it will pay normal tax during the specified period.

m) Impairment of Assets

The company assesses at each reporting date whether there is an indication that an asset may be impaired. If any indication exists, the recoverable amount is determined. Where the carrying amount of an asset or CGU exceeds its recoverable amount, the asset is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and risks specific to the asset.

After impairment, depreciation is provided on the revised carrying amount of the assets over its remaining useful life.

A previously recognised impairment loss is reversed in Statement of Profit & Loss only if there has been a change in the assumptions used to determine the assets's recoverable amount since the last impairment loss was recognised. The reversal is limited so that the carrying amount of the asset does not exceed its recoverable amount, nor exceed the carrying amount that would have determined, net of depreciation, had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset in prior years.

n) Provision, Contingent Liabilities And Contingent Assets

Provisions involving substantial degree of estimation in measurement are recognized when there is a present obligation as a result of past events and it is probable that there will be an outflow of resources. Contingent liabilities are not recognized but are disclosed in the Notes to Account. Contingent assets are neither recognized nor disclosed in the financial statements.

o) Earning per Share (EPS)

In determining earnings per share, the company considers the net profit after tax and includes the post tax effect of any extra ordinary items.
